

SAME OLD STORY FROM THE CAPITAL

NO CHANGE IN THE LEGISLATIVE BALLOT FOR SENATOR.

Caucus Votes Fruitlessly During the Afternoon—Bills of General Interest Introduced in Both Houses and Started on the Way to Become Laws.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 26.—[Special]—The introduction of a few bills was all the work done by the legislature this morning, but there were three or four important ones among them.

In the assembly Mr. Humphrey introduced a bill to reduce the passenger railway fares in the state from three to two cents.

Mr. Hall introduced an inheritance tax bill similar to the one he has offered at several successive sessions. It imposes a tax of 5 per cent on all property in the state transferred by will or under state laws, or by bargain, contract or agreement made in contemplation of death where the property amounts to $500, or more. The property so transferred to immediate relatives, however, is exempt up to $10,000, after which a tax of 1 per cent is provided.

Another bill changes the deer season from the 1st to the 12th, to the 12th to the 30th of November.

Another permits persons to change their names by filing with the register of deeds.

In the senate Mr. Munson introduced a bill to define and tax express companies. It requires an annual license fee based on the population of the places where the companies have offices as follows: Cities of 50,000 or over $500; twenty to fifty thousand, $200; fifteen to twenty thousand, $75; three to five thousand, $50; one to three thousand, $30; villages of two hundred to one thousand, $10; every other office $5. License are to be paid into the state treasury.

The report of the fish commission was submitted in both houses, and a recess taken until noon for the joint senatorial caucus.

Both houses met in joint convention at noon, and voted for senator. There was no change from yesterday, except as to a few absentees, the vote resulting: Quarles, 41; Stephenson, 26; Babcock, 16; Cook, 16; Webb, 10; Ryan, 17. Only one ballot was taken.

No change is looked for at the republican caucus this afternoon.

Two changes developed on the first ballot in the republican senatorial caucus this afternoon. Harvey went from Stephenson to Quarles, and Werheim from Webb to Cook. Holcombe, a Quarles man, was the only absentee. The vote resulted: Quarles, 42; Stephenson, 25; Cook, 18; Babcock, 17; Webb, 9.

On the sixty-fifth ballot Werheim went from Cook to Stephenson.

On the 66th ballot Werheim changed again from Cook to Stephenson, bringing the latter back to 26. There was no change on the 66th, 67th, or 68th ballots. Adjourned till evening.

Settling Gillett's Affairs.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 26.—C. R. Troxel, attorney for Grant G. Gillett, ex-millionaire cattle king, and James H. Arnold of Kansas City, one of the heavy creditors of Gillett, have arrived here from Chihuahua, Mexico. Arnold says that negotiations with Gillett looking to a settlement of the latter's affairs with his creditors are now under way and everything points to satisfactory arrangements being completed before March 1, when Gillett will return to his home in Kansas.

Court Records Lost in Fire.

Carlinville, Ill., Jan. 26.—Fire in the Macoupin county court house Tuesday night destroyed nearly 1,000 legal papers filed in the county and probate courts. The loss is at present incalculable. It is asserted that the papers destroyed involved estates aggregating over 1,000,000. Much litigation will follow as a result of the conflagration, as many of the estates in process of adjustment are in a badly tangled condition.

Smallpox Kills Or Indians.

Santa Fe, N. M., Jan. 26.—Information from the Zuni pueblo in western Valencia county tells of a sad state of affairs among the Indians living there. Smallpox is raging with terrible results and deaths are numerous. Since the disease broke out 217 deaths have occurred and 600 Indians are sick, of whom possibly about one-half will recover.

Kingston Has a $50,000 Fire.

Kingston, Ont., Jan. 26.—Kingston had a $50,000 fire Wednesday night. The Odd Fellows' block, in Princess street, valued at $35,000, was wiped out. The fire was caused by an exploding lamp in a business college on the second floor.

Wisconsin Pensions Granted.

Washington, Jan. 26.—Increase—Almond Raymond, Fargo, $6 to $12; William H. Danks, National home, Milwaukee, $10 to $12. Reissue—Charles Hopkins, Wisconsin Veterans' home, Waukegan, $12. Original widows, etc.—Anne Jensen, Elkhound, $3; Ellen M. Nelson, Fort Atkinson, $3.

JOHN KIENOW IN HAVANA

Well Known Janesville Boy Member of the Sixth Missouri

John Kienow, a well known Janesville boy, is now in camp nine miles from Havana, Cuba, as a member of the Sixth Missouri regiment.

In a letter to local relatives he states that he is perfectly satisfied with his surroundings, and that Uncle Sam is doing well by the soldier boys these days. He says that the climate is grand, but it will be some time yet before modern accommodations are secured through the island. Mr. Kienow, for a number of years played bass violin in Johnny Smith's orchestra, and when volunteers were called for in the late war he enlisted in this city in Company A, and went to Jacksonville. On being mustered out here he enlisted in the Sixth Missouri, of which regiment he is now a member. His numerous Janesville friends will wish him the best of fortune.

GARLAND DROPS DEAD

Ex-Attorney of the United States Expires Suddenly in Supreme Court Room.

Washington, Jan. 26.—[Special]—Ex-United States Attorney General A. H. Garland dropped dead in the United States supreme court room this afternoon.

Mr. Garland was born in Tennessee in 1832. He was a member of the confederate congress, governor of Arkansas from 1875 to 1877. He was then chosen to the United States senate in the latter year and served one term, when he was appointed attorney general of the United States by President Cleveland, retiring from office at the close of the presidential term. He has since been practicing before the supreme court.

ARE AFTER A DASTARD

Reward For the Person Who Sent Poison to Mrs. Adams and Harry Cornish.

New York, Jan. 26.—[Special]—The Evening Journal today offers $5,000 reward for the arrest and conviction of the man who sent poison to Mrs. Kate Adams and Harry Cornish. The Journal says the police believe a certain man is guilty, but this man is so hedged around with legal ability and wealth that it has been impossible to secure positive evidence.

EAGAN'S TRIAL BEGINS.

Court-Martial Commences Its Work—Two Witnesses Are Heard.

Washington, Jan. 26.—The board of army officers designated by the secretary of war to sit as a court-martial in the case of B. G. Gen. Chas. P. Egan, commissary-general of subsistence, charged with conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman, and conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline, in connection with his testimony before the war investigating committee, met at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning and almost immediately proceeded to the business in hand.

Gen. Egan exhibited no signs of nervousness, but the expression of his face and his manner clearly indicated that he realized that the trial involved consequences to him of the gravest character. At the conclusion of the reading of the charges, on being requested to plead to the specifications, he said "Not guilty," not denying, however, that the specifications set forth correctly part of the language used.

Judge Worthington, Gen. Egan's counsel, said he desired to state briefly to the court the substance of Gen. Egan's defense. Whatever, he said, the court may think of the propriety of the language used by Gen. Egan before the war investigating committee, there was no doubt in his (Worthington's) mind that he was fully protected in using that language by the laws of the land. In addition to this, the president of the United States had instructed the war investigating committee to announce publicly that witnesses before that tribunal would be given immunity for whatever they might testify to. This was a solemn promise given by the president of the United States, and counsel had no doubt that the court would find that Gen. Egan could not under these circumstances be held to answer to a military court-martial for his language.

Maj. S. C. Mills was called to testify on behalf of the government. He said he was the recorder of the war investigating commission and was present and heard Gen. Egan's testimony before the commission. The manner of Gen. Egan in giving his testimony, he said, was that of a man laboring under great excitement, but trying to control his excitement.

Maj. Gen. McCook, retired, a member of the war investigating commission, was the next witness. He was present and heard a part of Gen. Egan's testimony before the commission. "The impression I had," he said, "was that Gen. Egan must be laboring under great nervous excitement."

A Proposition.

The Plaintiff's Lawyer—"Can't we settle this matter without further litigation?" The Defendant's Lawyer—"I think so. Suppose you take the property and give me a mortgage for 50 per cent of its value!"—Puck.

CUBANS TO MASS AROUND HAVANA

SOLDIERS WILL DEMAND PAY FOR SERVICES.

Prospects For a Ratification of the Peace Treaty Are Growing Brighter—Aguinaldo Is Granted Imperial Power By the Philippine Congress—Sick Soldiers Return.

Havana, Jan. 26.—[Special]—Gen. Gomez intends to concentrate all the Cuban forces in the island in the province of Santa Clara and from there to come to the vicinity of Havana, where he will encamp and await developments. Several of his emissaries are now in Havana conferring with the Cuban leaders concerning the situation. The Cubans are keenly desirous of having their army paid, and declare openly it is unjust that the Americans should administer the finances of the island without paying the patriots. The situation is becoming graver hourly. The discontent caused by the non payment of troops is spreading rapidly. People are also angered over Gen. Ludlow's arbitrary conduct.

PROSPECTS OF RATIFICATION

Friends of the Administration Believe They Are Bright.

Washington, Jan. 26.—[Special]—There is much satisfaction in the administration over the decision of the senate committee on foreign relations to have a vote on the ratification of the Spanish-American treaty a week from next Monday. The chairman of the committee, Senator Davis, is confident that there are enough supporters of the treaty to ensure its ratification. He has been making a thorough canvass of his colleagues, and giving the opposition the advantage of several doubtful votes he finds that he will have at least three votes to spare. In the meantime the supporters of the administration policy will use their utmost endeavors to render ratification doubly certain, while it is not improbable that the president will himself take a hand and use his persuasive powers with senators who are wavering.

STICK TO AGUINALDO

Philippine Congress Endorses and Gives Him Imperial Power.

Hong Kong, Jan. 26.—[Special]—The Philippine congress at Malos passed a resolution expressing confidence in Aguinaldo and empowering him to declare war at any time and for any purpose. There is great enthusiasm throughout the island of Luzon over the promulgation of the constitution. The insurgent newspapers are publishing still more violent attacks upon the Americans than before.

The strictest form of martial law prevails at Manila. No natives are permitted to be on the streets after ten at night.

The insurgents refuse to allow Americans to go through their lines.

BEER UNFIT FOR USE.

Reports of Commanding Officers Relative To Soldiers' Supplies.

Washington, Jan. 26.—[Special]—Reports of officers representing soldiers were laid before the special beef investigating committee last night. The officers in their reports say the canned roast beef furnished soldiers was unfit for use. The officers who submitted the reports are Gens. Lawton, Carpenter, Wheaton, Harris and Col. Roosevelt.

LEAVE MANILA FOR HOME

Sick Officers and Soldiers Return on the Transport Zelandia.

Washington, Jan. 26.—[Special]—The transport Zelandia left Manila yesterday for San Francisco with 124 officers and enlisted men, all sick.

The World's Railways.

The London Daily Mail says: The United States claim nearly half of the whole of the world's mileage of railway, namely, 180,000 miles. This is equal to seven and a quarter times the earth's circumference at the equator. In proportion to population the United States have for each mile of railway in Russia, twelve miles; in Germany or the United Kingdom, five miles; in Austria, six miles, and in France, four miles. Persia has but one mile of railway for every 13,235 square miles, an area nearly equal to that of Holland, or for every 234,000 of its people. China, with its seventy-three miles of railway, is in some respect in worse plight. For each mile of railway it has a population equal to that of Yorkshire, and an area nearly as large as Belgium.

Dog Walks on His Fore Legs.

C. D. Graham, a liveryman of Ottawa, Canada, has a peculiar freak of nature in the shape of a small fox-terrier, which walks entirely on its two fore paws, without touching its hind feet to the ground. From the day of its birth the dog has never used its hind legs. The terrier is but two months old and was born in a litter with five more puppies, all of them in no way different from the ordinary fox-terrier. This peculiar puppy has a hump in its back, and can balance itself on its fore paws like a juggler, and in this position can walk, run and hop about with its hind legs an inch or so from the ground.

CLERKS NEED NOT WEAR UNIFORMS

THE CHICAGO POSTOFFICE EMPLOYEES GAIN VICTORY.

Washington Authorities Refuse to Sustain the Postmaster's Recent Order Requiring All Servants of Uncle Sam in that Office to Wear Distinctive Garb.

Chicago, Jan. 26.—[Special]—There is joy among the postal clerks of this city today over the announcement from Washington that the department will overrule the order of Postmaster Gordon requiring all clerks to wear uniforms. There are something like 1,500 of these clerks who would be affected by the order, and they are very much elated, for not a man among them desires the change.

There is some quiet amusement among the government servants at the statement from Mr. Gordon that he did not contemplate enforcing the order, but issued it merely to obtain an expression of opinion from the clerks. It was really his purpose he did not have long to wait, for the protest against the order was both prompt and emphatic.

CALLED TO ACCOUNT

Officers of the Paris Court of Cassation Are Censured and Will Be Prosecuted.

Paris, Jan. 26.—[Special]—The inquiry into the allegations against certain members of the court of cassation is finished. The commissioners recommend that President Loew be censured and that Councillors Bard and Duams be prosecuted.

DON'T LIKE MORMONS

Missionaries of the Faith in England Warned That Their Lives Are in Danger.

Bristol, Eng., Jan. 26.—[Special]—The Mormon Elder who have been successfully proselyting here are being robbed nightly and warned that their lives are not safe.

BAR WANTS SOME CHANGES

Proposed That a Majority of Jurors Shall Render Verdicts.

When the Wisconsin State Bar association meets at Madison next month it will have presented to it for action two important changes in the present system of procedure. The first of these will be in the shape of a proposition to have a majority on a jury decide a case instead of insisting on a unanimous verdict, as at present. The second will be a plan for an appellate court so as to relieve the overworked supreme court.

Edward P. Vilas, of Milwaukee, will present the arguments in favor of a change in the jury system, and the arguments on the other side will be advanced by L. J. Nash of Manitowoc. The plan for an intermediate court will be advocated by S. U. Pinney, who recently resigned from the supreme bench and who is in a position to show the necessity for some new arrangement which will relieve the pressure at the head. Chief Justice Cassady, the president of the association, will deliver the annual address.

The Camel as a Plow Horse.

Count Skorzewski, a wealthy land owner in the province of Posen, Germany, to the amazement of his rustic neighbors, has introduced a novel departure on his Czerniejewo estates, which stands a fair chance of being widely imitated in agricultural districts in western Europe. Instead of a horse or ox a camel is yoked to the plow, and the experiment has proved successful beyond the count's most sanguine expectations. The camel, inured to hardships and privations, does double the work of a pair of horses, is exceedingly tractable and can be kept in good condition—for a camel—on a comparatively small quantity of inferior fodder. The "Skorzewski quadrupeds," as the peasants of Posen facetiously call the laborious intruders, were soon acclimatized, and are the envy of the country side.

Average Man's Stride.

Quetelet estimates the average length of a man's stride at thirty-one and a half inches, and the distance an average traveler can cover at this rate at 7,158 yards an hour, or 113 yards a minute. The number of strides would be 7,500 an hour, or 125 a minute. The length of the stride in the various European armies is as follows: In the German army it is 31½ inches, with a cadence of 112 steps per minute. In the Austrian army, 29½ inches, with a cadence of from 115 to 130 per minute. In the Italian army, 29½ inches, with a cadence of 120 per minute. In the French army, 29½ inches, with a cadence of 115 per minute. In the British army, 30 inches, with a cadence of 116 per minute.

Hook Swinging in India.

Hook swinging—the swinging of religious enthusiasts from hooks thrust through their flesh—is still practiced in India. In one place twelve couples recently underwent this cruel treatment to make a Hindu holiday, and one of the men lost his life by a fall.

WAS ROCK COUNTY PIONEER

Father of Ella Wheeler Wilcox Dies Near Windsor.

Marcus H. Wheeler, father of the famous poetess, Ella Wheeler Wilcox, and one of the early settlers in Rock county, died at his home, on a farm near the village of Windsor yesterday. He was 91 years old and was a native of Theford, Vt. He came to Wisconsin in 1849 and settled in Johnstown, Rock County. There on a farm of eighty acres he raised his family. He leaves four children and his wife.

The story of the life of the father and the rest of the family turns on the daughter Ella, who began to write when about 16 years old to help support the family. She inherited literary tastes from her mother, who is a cultivated woman.

GEN. ALGER TESTIFIES

Gives Evidence Before the War Investigating Committee This Morning.

Washington, Jan. 26.—[Special]—Secretary Alger appeared before the war investigators this morning. He testified that he kept posted on the movements of bureaus of the war department and submitted a schedule of the disbursements made under the national defense fund. He admitted that complaints were made about medicines and food, but did not think there was any serious difficulty. He declared he did not have any personal interest in the selection of any camp site.

BARBARITY IN CONGO

Belgian Cruelties Have Driven the Natives to Rebellion That Promises Success.

Brussels, Jan. 26.—[Special]—It is admitted that the rebellion in the Congo free state is of the most serious nature, and the whole state may lapse into barbarism. The uprising is due to excessive commercial exploitation by the trading companies. Instances are cited of native villages which did not give the desired quota of rubber being burned, and the inhabitants massacred.

NEW LAWS FOR INDIANA.

Bill to Keep Saloons Out of Residence Districts Is Advanced.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 26.—The bill to prohibit licensed saloons in residence districts met with favor in the house Wednesday. A majority of the committee on temperance recommended that the bill be indefinitely postponed. The report was rejected and the bill placed on the calendar.

At a caucus of the republicans it was agreed to support the bill to grant Mrs. Oliver P. Morton a pension of $100 a month during her lifetime.

Northern Indiana members have brought forward a bill providing for the draining of the Kankakee swamps. The bill was introduced by Representative Knotts. It provides that county commissioners may make drainage districts on petition of the owners of lands to be drained. The commissioners may let the work of drainage to the highest bidder, or they may purchase the necessary machinery and do the work themselves. Any landowner in the district is to be permitted to do work at the price bid. The money needed to construct the ditch is to be contributed by the landowner.

Quay Not Yet Elected.

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 26.—Senator Quay still has the lead, and he can doubtless keep it as long as he wants it, but it is evident from the determined manner of his opponents that he cannot gain any more strength than he has thus far exhibited. The Quay people say he will win, and that they will spring a surprise yet that will bring success.

University of Ireland.

London, Jan. 26.—Mr. A. J. Balfour, government leader in the house of commons, has adopted the suggestion to establish a Catholic university at Dublin and a similar Protestant institution at Belfast. He believes this measure will help greatly to settle the Irish question. The Irish Catholics have long desired a university of their own.

Owen Soldiers $8,000,000.

Madrid, Jan. 26.—The Spanish colonial office, which is soon to go out of existence, will close with a deficit of 40,000,000 pesetas ($8,000,000) due to the Spanish soldiers who have been brought back to Spain. This debt will be assumed by the war office.

Saw No Trace of Survivors.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 26.—The tug which has been searching for survivors of the Paul Jones, and concerning which fears were entertained, is safe, having reached this city. She brought no tidings of the Paul Jones survivors.

To Repeat Anti-Jesuit Law.

Berlin, Jan. 26.—The reichstag passed the first and second readings of a motion offered by the clerical party, providing for the repeal of the anti-Jesuit law.

Sexton Is Still Improving.

Washington, Jan. 26.—Col. James A. Sexton continues to improve, and the hope for his recovery grows stronger with each day's development.

EAGAN'S TRIAL MAKES PROGRESS

THE ACCUSED PRESENTS EVERY APPEARANCE OF DISTRESS.

Is Haggard With Anxiety, and Dreads the Consequences of Disgrace—Several Officers Testify to His Mental Excitement When He Made Objectional Remarks.

Washington, Jan. 26.—[Special]—The Eagan court martial was resumed this morning. Gen. Eagan looked pale and troubled, and shows the strain under which he is laboring.

After the examination of several unimportant witnesses Gen. Eagan was called to the stand. He said the interview with Gen. Miles published in New York nearly drove him crazy. Witness' voice was husky, and several times a tear coursed down his cheek. He felt that his wife, children and himself were disgraced if he did not emphatically deny the statement that the beef was furnished the soldiers under pretence of an experiment. He solemnly declared that of the ninety million dollars spent by his office, not a cent soiled his fingers. He could not eat or sleep until he had been given an opportunity to make public an official denial.

Colonels Alexander and Davis, witnesses for the defence, testified that Eagan labored under intense mental excitement several days prior to his appearance before the war board. Col. Davis tried to reason him out of some objectionable parts of his statement, but in vain.

WIND IN SOUTH SEAS

Cyclone Does Great Damage to Property, and the Loss of Life Is Heavy.

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 26.—[Special]—The steamer Aorangi, from Australia, brings reports of a great cyclone in the south seas. Hundreds of lives were lost, many vessels wrecked and great damage done to buildings.

KNUTE IS KNIGHTED

Minnesota Senator Receives the Order of St. Olaf From His Native Country.

Christiana, Jan. 26.—[Special]—United States Senator Knute Nelson, of Minnesota, has been gazetted a Knight of St. Olaf.

HATRED FOR THE JEWS

Said to be Responsible For a Great Calamity at Vienna Last Evening.

Vienna, Jan. 26.—[Special]—A benzine factory exploded last night, killing several persons. It is alleged the factory was fired by anti-Semites.

FORECAST OF WEATHER

Chicago, Jan. 26.—[Special]—Forecast for Wisconsin:

Fair tonight and Friday, cold wave tonight.

The Flying Stars.

The recently published report of the astronomical observatory of the Cape of Good Hope contains an account of the discovery of a little star of only the eighth magnitude, and consequently far too faint to be seen with the naked eye, which is nevertheless the swiftest traveler that has yet been found among the stellar hosts. Its motion in a year amounts to about nine seconds of arc. In 200 years it would move an apparent distance about equal to the diameter of the moon. But its real velocity is so great that it travels hundreds of millions of miles every year.

Game Wanted.

Greene—"Good morning, Mrs. Brown. Where is Tom today?" Mrs. Brown—"Tom is out in the kitchen killing cockroaches. He was going a-hunting, but his gun didn't come home as he had ordered. He had set upon having a day of sport, but rather than be wholly disappointed he has gone to killing cockroaches. When a man is in the humor for sport, he must murder something, you know."—Boston Transcript.

A Great Bargain.

The country store owned by Mr. Jabez Dodd contained such a motley conglomeration in the way of "stock" that a village lounge one day offered to bet that another man could not ask for anything in ordinary, every-day use without Uncle Jabe's producing it. The two men entered the store, and the challenged party said: "Got any false teeth on hand to-day, Uncle Jabe?" Without an instant's hesitation, Uncle Jabe put his hand to his mouth and a moment later held out the hand with a set of grinning teeth in it. "There!" he said, "I'll sell that set mighty cheap for my goods hev shrunk so they don't fit me no more, and I'm goin' to have some new ones. If you want these fer—" But the two men had fled, while Uncle Jabe called after them: "I'll let you have 'em fer less'n half price."

LOCAL BARBERS MUST SHOW LICENSE

ASSEMBLYMAN WHEELER WILL PRESENT BILL.

Promises To Do Away With All Novices At the Business, and the Public Will Be Pleased—The Local Union At The Head of the Movement.

Local tonsorial artists are wearing a broad smile these days. It is all owing to a bill that Assemblyman W. G. Wheeler, of this city, is soon to introduce in the assembly at Madison. The bill provides for the licensing of all barbers in the state of Wisconsin by a State Board of Examiners.

For the past two years members of the local Barbers' Union have been hard at work to have such a bill passed, and State Organizer M. E. Whittaker, of this city, has taken a leading part in the work.

A committee of Milwaukee barbers was at Madison yesterday, working to have the bill presented. It provides for a State Board of Examiners, similar in many respects to the Boards of Law, Medical and Plumbing examiners, and all who seek to work as barbers after the act is passed are required to pass an examination, not only in skill in the ordinary work of barbers, but in the preparation and care of tools, and in the diseases of the skin and face, to prevent the aggravation and spread of these diseases. The bill does not apply to journeymen barbers now following their trade. It provides, however, that within ninety days after the approval of the law, every person now engaged as a barber shall file with the secretary of the board an affidavit setting forth his name, residence, and the length of time during which, and the places where he has practiced such occupation, and shall pay to the treasurer of the board $1. A certificate of registration will then be issued to him.

The board of examiners is to consist of three members to be appointed by the governors. Two members must be practical barbers, and the other a physician. One of the barbers on the board may be recommended by the several barbers' unions organized in the state, which have been in existence for at least one year before the making of the recommendation. The other barber must have been an employing barber in the state for at least two years before being appointed. The members of the board are to serve two years each, except the first board appointed. Those members are to serve as follows: The member recommended by the barbers' unions to serve three years, the other barber two, and the physician one year. Each member of the board is to receive $5 a day for actual service and three cents a mile for each mile actually traveled to attend meetings of the board.

The board is to hold five public examinations each year in five different cities of the state. Each person passing the examination or otherwise furnishing proof of his qualifications is to be given a certificate and registered in the records of the board. No one can take the examination unless he has served at least three years' apprenticeship, or worked at the trade in another state for three years. No barber shop, however, is to be allowed more than one apprentice to two qualified barbers. Any person working as a barber without having a certificate is to be punished by a fine of not more than $100 nor less than $10 or by confinement in the county jail from ten to ninety days.

WILL NOT PAY THE COST

Racine Aldermen Rebel Against an Order of the Court.

Racine, Wis., Jan. 26.—Several members of the Racine city council threaten to resign if any part of the costs occasioned by the mandamus suit of Rev. A. C. Grier in the case of Frank Huck, charged with selling liquor to a minor, is taxed against them. In the event of these resignations a special election would be required, and in the meantime the city would be without a working council. The committee on fire and water and a special committee with the mayor and officials of the Racine Water company have held a number of secret meetings of late in regard to increasing the water supply and pressure. The water company suggests putting in another intake pipe, but this the committee refuses to do. Suggestions have

Terribly Afflicted

Little Girl Could Hardly Breathe Owing to Catarrh

Wood's Sarsaparilla Cured Her and Her Worn Out Mother.

"My little girl was terribly afflicted with catarrh and she could hardly breathe at night. She took many different medicines without benefit and we became almost discouraged. One day I read an advertisement of Wood's Sarsaparilla and concluded to try it. She began taking it and was soon relieved. I believe she is now permanently cured, as she has not been troubled with catarrh for some time. I was run down in health myself and suffered constantly with backache, and felt all worn out. I thought Wood's Sarsaparilla might help me and I began taking it and it has cured me. I have not had any return of the lameness in my back or tired feeling." Mrs. A. H. ALLMAN, Medford, Wisconsin.

Court Physician—Dr. J. P. Thorne.
P. C. R.—J. A. Canniff.

The meeting night was changed to the last Monday evening of each month. The local delegate to the High Court, which meets in Hudson Feb. 1, is R. D. Stone, and he will leave for that city on Monday next.

ENJOYED A BIRTHDAY PARTY

Miss Pauline Bates Entertains a Number of Her Young Friends.

Miss Pauline Bates entertained a number of her friends at a progressive crokinole party last evening, at her home, 117 Fourth avenue. The event was in honor of the fifteenth birthday of the hostess, who was the recipient of numerous presents, and the guests did not depart until a late hour. Those present were:

Misses—Edith Loomis, Gladys Nicholson, Anna Landon, Grace Valentine, Floral White, Clara Paul, Susie Paul, Harry Stanton, John Schorer, Gale Nicholson, Millard Jdo, Frank Hogan, Edward Brooks, William Drummond, Laura Bump, Alice Crawford, Mammie London, May Merritt, Libbie Graylyn, Sadie Bates, Pauline Bates, Roy Airis, Fred Holt, Charles Nott, Fred Hutchinson, Lewis Ehringer, Earl Heath, Verno Murdock.

NO COUNTY FAIR LIKELY

Wisconsin Managers' Association Call Their Annual Meeting.

A letter has been received in the city directed to the secretary of the Rock County Agricultural society from President John M. True and Secretary J. P. Reeve, of the Wisconsin Fair Managers' association, calling attention to the annual meeting to be held at Madison, beginning Feb. 7, at 9 a. m. It is expected that many responses will be received and that a good representation will be had, and that a general understanding as to the dates of fairs will be arrived at. This in all probability will not affect Rock county, for the present indications are that the county will hold no fair this year. At least no steps have been taken in this direction, and it is not likely any will be, much to the regret of the greater portion of the population.

THE SMITH-WALSH NUPTIALS

Pleasant Wedding Celebrated in This City Last Evening.

The wedding of Ray Smith and Miss May Walsh, foreshadowed in last evening's Gazette, was solemnized by Dean E. M. McGinnity at St. Patrick's church parsonage, at 7 o'clock. Miss Margaret Walsh, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, and Fred N. Blakely was best man. After the ceremony the couple repaired to the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Walsh, 166 Linn street, where an elegant wedding supper was spread. A large number of friends of the contracting parties were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith left on the 12:45 train this morning for Reedsburg, Wis., where they will visit Mr. Smith's mother. On their return they will take up their residence with the bride's parents.

Do your clothes look yellow? If so, use Maple City Self-Washing soap. It will make them white.

DEMISE OF ELIHU COLEMAN

Prominent Attorney of Fond du Lac Expires Suddenly.

Green Bay, Wis., Jan. 26.—Elihu Coleman, a well-known attorney at Fond du Lac, died suddenly in this city last night from heart disease. He had been to Oconto on business yesterday, and stopped in the city last night. On his way to a train he was seized suddenly with a fainting spell and carried to a hotel, where he expired in a few minutes. An inquest was held. Mr. Coleman was United States district attorney during Harrison's administration, and for many years was a prominent figure in political affairs in the central part of the state.

MANAGER WELLER RESIGNS

Has Been With The Western Union Company Over Forty Years.

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 6.—The resignation of Alfred Weller, for more than forty years manager of the Western Union Telegraph company's office in Milwaukee, has been sent to the officials of the company to take effect on February 1. Mr. Weller stated today that after a much needed rest from active business cares, he would probably return to the Western Union in some department with less care and responsibility.

The Good Templars

Will give a reception to the signers of the Murphy pledge and their friends at the First M. E. church Friday evening, Jan. 27, beginning at 7:30. Let every body come.

To day our large invoice of fresh caught fish comes for Friday's trade. The invoice will include white fish, trout, pickerel, pike, steak salmon, and steak trout, smelts, and smoked white fish. We advise the ordering of fish Thursday so that sufficient time may be given to properly thawing out the fish. They should remain in water over night by rights. Sanborn.

Cost of Europe's Fleets and Armies.

It is estimated that Europe pays yearly for the maintenance of its fleets and armies $225,000,000, and nearly as much again in the guise of interest on debts contracted for the prosecution of foreign wars. The daily expenditure needed for a conflict in which the five continental great powers were engaged would amount to $4,195,000. Over and above this sum it would be necessary to expend on the families of soldiers about $198,000. In other words, the annual cost of this European war, exclusive of indirect losses, would, according to the calculations of M. Blokh, a Polish publicist, reach the fantastic total of $1,747,120,000.

A CREDITABLE PERFORMANCE

"Finnegan's Four Hundred" Was Excellent and Well Received.

"Finnegan's 400," by the Murray & Mack company, gave an entertainment at the Opera house last evening that was fully up to the pretensions of the advance announcements. It was not a play in the strict sense of the word, but a vaudeville performance with a thin thread of a story to connect the several acts. The entertainment throughout was clean, free from that vulgarity that characterizes so many performances of the variety type. There was much that was preposterous and exaggerated, of course, but that only made the show more enjoyable. Murray and Mack were the stars, and acquitted themselves admirably. They may be sure of a hearty welcome if they should return to Jamesville.

WITNESSES ARE SUMMONED

Case of State Versus Jay Brewer Was Called This Morning.

Officer Wallace Cochrane was in the vicinity of Brodhead today for the purpose of summoning several witnesses for the state who will appear tomorrow in the entitled action of the State of Wisconsin vs. Jay Brewer. Friends of the defendant have been busy of late in securing several witnesses, and they promise to have damaging testimony against the state.

The case, which came up in the municipal court this morning, is one of larceny from the person of Patrick Noonan of $78.

The drawing of a twelve man jury took place this morning and the trial will be called tomorrow and will in all probability take two days to finish.

HOW TO FIND PRIME BEEF CUTS.

The Chucks, Rump and Brisket—Flank Steak.

The prime steer used for beef purposes weighs about 900 pounds. Of this amount there is in the carcass two sets of first quality ribs, consisting of seven ribs in each set and weighing about forty pounds per set. There are also two loins weighing about forty pounds each. There is, on an average, 175 pounds of choice beef in each well-regulated steer, but some butchers have been known to sell porterhouse from a carcass after everything was gone but the horns. The remainder of the beef, after the choicest has been cut away, is called the "misnomer," from the fact that it sells at a lower price. A large percentage of the most nutritious meat is found in the coarser cuts, but nearly every one demands a part of the 175 pounds, which is a false idea of domestic economy as well as judgment. Practical experience has shown that the utilization of the chucks, the best part of the round, the rump, flank and brisket gives the best results and is conducive of better health than the higher-priced meats. Such parts need more attention while cooking, however, yet the many tempting dishes that may be made from them more than repay for all extra trouble. The average housewife may not know it, but nevertheless it is a fact, that butchers who are daily and hourly handling all kinds of cuts of beef almost invariably choose for their own consumption flank steak. They say it is more savory and just as tender as tenderloin, which cuts the butcher seldom eats. The flank steak is situated between the inside and outside layers of creamy-colored fat in the flank, and when taken from well-fed stock is excellent. It costs at the market but half as much as porterhouse or sirloin. An old butcher once told me that the best piece of meat in the bullock for making a dish of boiled beef is the close-grained top piece over the shoulder blade. Meat adhering to the ribs makes much more satisfactory steak than the so-called sirloin, and costs but little. This piece may be larded and served as is flet de boeuf. It is also quite acceptable as Mignon steak.

Average Length of a Man's Stride.

Quetelet estimates the average length of a man's stride at 31 1/2 inches and the distance an average traveler can cover at this rate at 7,155 yards an hour, or 119 yards a minute. The number of strides would be 7,500 an hour, or 125 a minute. The length of the stride in the various European armies is as follows: In the German army it is 31 1/2 inches, with a cadence of 112 steps per minute; in the Austrian army, 29 1/2 inches, with a cadence of from 115 to 130 per minute; in the Italian army, 29 1/2 inches, with a cadence of 120 per minute; in the French army, 29 1/2 inches, with a cadence of 115 per minute; in the British army, 30 inches, with a cadence of 116 per minute.

MAY ARREST AGONCILLO.

Washington Authorities Said to Be Ready to Act

EXPATRIATION TALKED OF.

Protest May Also Be Made to European Governments Against the Juntas Now Operating Within Their Jurisdiction—There Is a Precedent for Such Action.

Washington, Jan. 26.—The arrest of Agoncillo, or an official order to him to leave this country within a few days, may be expected as the next turn in the Philippine affairs. This will doubtless be followed by a request of the United States to Great Britain, France, China, and Japan that the Filipino junta be ordered to leave those respective jurisdictions. The precedent for such action was laid down in the case of the Spanish spies, Dubosc and Carranza, in Canada.

Agoncillo's communication to the state department, in which he protested against the freedom of action of this government as to its army and navy in the Philippines, has irritated the president and the state department to such a degree that summary action is expected against him, probably within the next forty-eight hours. The state department's views of Agoncillo's transactions are:

First—That he is conducting a campaign against the United States government in the newspapers.

Second—That he is writing letters to the president, but in reality to produce a sentiment in this country hostile to the constituted authorities.

Third—That he represents an organization actually in rebellion against the government of the United States.

America's claim of conquest over the Philippines puts Agoncillo and his followers in the category of traitors to this government, and his juntas in the position of spies for hostile organization.

Says Insurrection Grows.

Madrid, Jan. 26.—An official dispatch from the Sulu islands of the Philippine group declares that all is well there and that the Spanish occupation continues.

Dispatches received by newspapers here assert that the insurrection of the Filipinos is spreading considerably. A native regiment, which was disbanded by the Spanish, it is alleged, enlisted as a body in the service of Aguinaldo.

PINGREE AGAINST PERQUISITES

The Governor Says the Pay of Legislators Should Be a Fixed Sum.

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 26.—Gov. Pingree sent a special message to the legislature Wednesday, in which he declared that the charging of mileage and expenses by members of committees for visiting state institutions was illegal, and by inference he protested against the action of the house in deciding that all the members of that body should participate in the junket to the upper peninsula.

The governor expressed the opinion that the pay of Michigan legislators was too small and recommended that there be submitted to the people this spring a proposition to amend the constitution so as to provide a fixed salary of $750 for a regular session of the legislature on condition that legislators be entitled to no perquisites whatever.

Previous to the receipt of this message the house had rescinded the action complained of, and only the committees on upper peninsula institutions will make the trip.

Mr. S. A. Fackler, editor of the Michigan (Fla.) Hustler, with his wife and children, suffered terribly from la grippe. One Minute Cough Cure was the only remedy that helped them. It acted quickly. Thousands of others use this remedy as a specific for la grippe, and its exhausting after effects. Never fails. People's Drug Co., corner Main and Milwaukee streets.

All Eyes on Gen. Gomez.

Havana, Jan. 26.—Gen. Maximiliano Gomez intends to concentrate all the Cuban forces in the island in the province of Santa Clara, and from there come to the vicinity of Havana, where he will encamp, peacefully awaiting developments. The Cubans are eager for the payment of their army, and openly declare that it is unjust that the Americans should administer the finances of the island without paying the patriots. There is wild talk of the possibility of another war, but a great majority of the Cubans repel the idea and advise that the people accept everything the Americans do.

The attitude of Gen. Gomez is not known here, and his decision is awaited with much interest. The discontented Cubans look to him to solve the present difficulty. Heretofore he has advised all the Cubans to abandon politics and go to work.

La grippe is again epidemic. Every precaution should be taken to avoid it. Its specific cure is One Minute Cough Cure. A. J. Shepherd, publisher Agricultural Journal and Advertiser, Eldon Mo., says: "No one will be disappointed in using One Minute Cough Cure for la grippe." Pleasant to take. Quick to act. People's Drug Co., corner Main and Milwaukee streets.

Chicago Live Stock Markets.

Chicago, Jan. 25.—Barely as many cattle and sheep came for the trade as expected and business in both branches was brisk at stronger prices, some fat cattle and choice sheep selling at 10c advance. Early sales of choice strong-weight hogs were fully steady, but later trade was slow at 2½c decline, most light grades selling flat 5c lower. Today's receipts, estimated at 13,000 cattle, 39,000 hogs, and 16,000 sheep, make 36,928 cattle, 110,151 hogs and 47,818 sheep for the first half of the week, against 31,535 cattle, 104,232 hogs and 62,968 sheep for same time last week and 26,384 cattle, 68,684 hogs and 41,087 sheep for the same period last year. Offerings were quite closely bought up, though the late trade had weaker tone, as usual.

FOR TRADE EXPANSION.

Favored by Manufacturers—Will Elect Officers Today.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. 26.—The National Association of Manufacturers Wednesday transacted most of its annual business, leaving the election of officers for today. Much attention was devoted to resolutions urging the senate to give prompt consideration to the treaty of peace with Spain. During the noon recess it was learned that the senate would vote finally on the ratification of the treaty on Feb. 6, and then the question was dropped. Although most of the new members favor expansion, yet they do not desire to express any official views on that question.

The convention is a unit on the question of a national department of commerce and industry at Washington, with a cabinet officer.

Several cities have invited the association to hold their next annual convention in their midst, but the contest is principally with Boston and Indianapolis, with the chances largely in favor of Boston, as it has been the custom to alternate between the east and west.

May Demand an Explanation.

Stockholm, Jan. 26.—It is rumored that United States Minister Thomas will protest to Count Douglas, the Swedish foreign minister, against the language used by Count de la Gardie, president of the second chamber of the riksdag, in his address on taking the chair. De la Gardie intimated that the United States was deceitful; that the war with Spain was not one of humanity, but one of national aggrandizement. Europe, he said, must keep sharp watch of America, for republics could not be trusted.

Talks of Miners' Convention.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 26.—M. D. Hatchford, the former president of the United Mine Workers, in an interview, said: "We have made a good settlement and I do not anticipate any trouble during the year. All local scales and differentials are yet to be arranged, but this, in my opinion, will be done without any difficulty."

S. M. Dalzell, president of the Illinois organization of operators, said: "We are satisfied with the agreement and it should be enforced."

Methodists of Mexico Meet.

City of Mexico, Jan. 26.—Bishop McCabe and family are here to attend the fifteenth annual conference of the Methodist church of Mexico, which met today. The figures of the last year show that there are 200 workers, 10,000 adherents and 3,000 Sunday school children in this republic. The valuation of the mission properties is $500,000. The collections from native Methodists during the year were $20,000.

Sherman Against Expansion.

New York, Jan. 26.—The Evening World prints an interview with John Sherman, in which the latter forcibly expresses himself against expansion. The ex-secretary of state is quoted as saying: "If I were in the senate I would not vote to ratify the treaty as it stands. I would vote to withdraw from the islands as soon as possible."

Senate to Declare Its Policy.

Washington, Jan. 26.—A senator from the northwest, a supporter of the peace treaty, stated yesterday that he expected a member of the foreign relations committee to bring before the senate a declaration of policy toward the Philippines. He said he was confident that the opinion of the senate would be expressed on the Philippine question. He said he understood the president would request a conference with the European governments and Japan for an international compact before sanctioning the withdrawal of American forces from the control of the Philippines.

Instructions as to Samoa.

Washington, Jan. 26.—The state department has forwarded to Ambassador White at Berlin full instructions as to the presentation he is to make to the German minister for foreign affairs relative to the indignity reported to have been offered to the chief justice of Samoa by the German officials at Apia.

To Report Brosius' Bill.

Washington, Jan. 26.—The house committee on banking and currency decided by a vote of 7 to 4 to report the bill of Representative Brosius of Pennsylvania.

Live for those that love you. For those whose hearts are fond and true.

The only way to do this right. Take Rocky Mountain Tea at night. Smith's Pharmacy, kodak agents.

Irishmen Urged to Unite.

Dublin, Jan. 26.—A convention of delegates from all parts of Munster, including numerous priests and laymen from the nationalist sections, assembled at Limerick Wednesday. The body passed resolutions requesting the Irish members of parliament to meet together and bury their differences.

A famous dish for breakfast, keeps the whole family well, costs 35 cents, one package of Rocky Mountain Tea. Smith's Pharmacy, kodak agents.

If the Baby Be Cutting Teeth.

IS IT CURABLE?

A Question Often Asked by Those Afflicted With Piles.

Is a strained joint curable? Is local inflammation curable? Of course, if properly treated. So is piles.

People often become afflicted with piles and ask some old "chronic" who has always persisted in the wrong treatment and naturally be discouraged them by telling them that their case is hopeless.

They in turn discourage others, and thus a disease that can in every case be cured by a careful and skillful handling is allowed to sap the energy of thousands who might free themselves of the trouble in a few days.

Pyramid Pile Cure will cure the most aggravated case of hemorrhoids in an astonishingly short time. It relieves the congested parts, reduces the tumors instantly no matter how large, allays the inflammation and stops the aching or itching at once.

Thousands who had resorted to expensive surgical treatment have been cured by the Pyramid Pile Cure—in a number of instances persons who had spent months in a hospital under a pile specialist.

It is a remedy that none need fear to apply even to the most aggravated, swollen and inflamed hemorrhoidal tumors.

If you are afflicted with this stubborn disease you can master it and master it quickly.

This remedy is no longer an experiment, but a medical certainty. It is manufactured by the Pyramid Drug Co. of Marshall, Mich.

Druggists sell it at 50 cents per box. It is becoming the most popular pile cure this country has ever known and druggists everywhere are ordering it for their customers.

Nasal CATARRH

In all its stages there should be cleanliness.

Ely's Cream Balin cleanses, soothes and heals the diseased membrane. It cures catarrh and drives away a cold in the head quickly.

Cream Balin is placed into the nostrils, spreads over the membrane and is absorbed. Relief is immediate and cures follow. It is not drying—does not produce sneezing. Large Size, 50 cents at Druggists or by mail; Trial Size, 10 cents by mail.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY.

1701—J. B. Bernadotte, French soldier who became king of Sweden; born: died 1814. Bernadotte was the son of a lawyer and became a soldier through enlistment as a common man. He won for his rapid promotion in the wars of the revolution, and he became general of a division before Napoleon appeared upon the scene as commander. On the death of the crown prince of Sweden he was elected heir to the throne and became the colleague of Charles XIII, whom he succeeded.

1823—Dr. Edward Jenner, inventor of vaccination, died: born 1753.

1888—Fall of Khartoum and assassination of General Charles Gordon.

1893—M. de Giers, Russian minister of foreign affairs for many years, died at St. Petersburg: born 1820.

1896—The ill-fated steamer J. W. Hawkins wrecked on her voyage from New York to Bermuda, with men and material for Cuba.

THE SENATORIAL FIGHT.

Two Kinds of Sentiment.
The Madison Democrat says "The Milwaukee Sentinel stands firm for Quarles. The Evening Wisconsin realizes that a situation has developed that releases the Quarles supporters." Both claim to represent popular sentiment. Evidently there is a morning public sentiment in Milwaukee and an afternoon public sentiment.

Time For "Second Choice."

Madison State Journal—The senatorial candidates have had a great deal to say about "second choice" supporters. Isn't it about time for this second choice phalanx to come to the front and do business?

The "Doodle Book" View.

The general Milwaukee Sentinel, judging, of course, from its justly celebrated doodle book standard, says: "The editor of The State Blind Asylum at Janesville is pleased to share the view of the situation which prompts The Evening Wisconsin to the belief that the senatorial candidate with the greatest number of votes should be deserted for the candidate with the greatest number of dollars in the interest of harmony."

Endorses Henry C. Payne

The Merrill Advocate comes out for Henry C. Payne for United States senator, saying that it believes that none of the five candidates now before the legislature can be elected. In closing The Advocate says:

"We could fill this paper with reasons why Henry C. Payne should be honored; but his great work for the republican party both in state and nation, his ability and fitness for the high honor are so well known that nothing more need be said."

A "Roast" For Mr. True

The Baraboo Republic criticizes Assemblyman True severely because he is voting for Mr. Quarles for senator, closing with the following paragraph:

"Everything honorable and fair has been done by Mr. True's constituency to induce him to support Mr. Babcock for the United States senate. Why he will not do so we leave for others to say—we do not know."

After remarking that in twenty years one American copper mine has paid dividends amounting to $40,000,000. The St. Louis Globe Democrat asks "why shouldn't there be money in silver when sold, like other metals, on its merits."

If Mr. Quarles is beaten The Milwaukee Sentinel will be responsible for his defeat. The average American citizen cannot be bulldozed, nor does he fear the wrath of the political tinkers.

And while you are thinking about the senatorial matter, let it not escape you that public sentiment is equally strong concerning the damage suits.

The Gazette extends its compliments to the local organ of the Rose machine, and also to that noted warrior, General—but let it pass.

QUESTION OF BREEDING.

Attitude of American Women in Public Places Evidences of Good Training.
Is the fashionable American woman well bred in public? This is a question that cannot always be answered in the affirmative. At the opera, for instance, does she show an educated and appreciative sense of the music which is supposed to be the attraction and remain respectfully silent while those around her desire to listen, or does she insolently assume that she and her friends, by virtue of their wealth and importance, can defy public opinion and disturb the music-loving public by their chattering? How about a church wedding? Does she remember she is in a sanctuary, not a drawing-room; that a certain quiet and seriousness befit the place and the occasion, or does she conduct herself as for the nonce the place of worship has been converted into a drawing-room, where clothes and gossip were the chief attraction? Surely the clergy should defend their temples against the social rioting that seems to be, nowadays, permitted at a wedding, and should suggest it to their parishioners that it would be "only seemly to wait until they reassemble at the house for the social part of the entertainment, and to remember that the ceremony in the church is a distinctly religious function. Continuing to follow melody and her friends on the various occasions when she shows herself in public, at the horse show, at the theaters, at church, we are forced to acknowledge that with the majority there is something wanting in courteous behavior; that as a type she may be beautiful, she certainly is attractive, but she is not by any manner of means always well bred.

NOT AFRAID OF "13."

The Remarkable Incidents in a Clergyman's Life.

Rev. B. F. Chapman of Andover, Conn., has lived to be 88 years old without feeling the effects of any evil number, yet he was born on the thirteenth day of the month. He was 13 years old when his family made an important move of his boyhood, and thirteen years after that he was married. He is a member of a family of thirteen, and his wife was also so situated. She was born on the thirteenth day of the month, and had thirteen letters in her name. Three of their five children saw the light of day on the same day of the month, and Mr. Chapman says in conclusion that he was born and will probably die in one of the thirteen original states and in a county having thirteen towns. When he came to Andover the usher at the church showed him into pew 13, and he has sat there for four years. When he came to Andover the postmaster offered him No. 13 letter box, saying that no one else would have it.

FUNERAL TODAY OF THE LATE ALBERT L. KAVALEGE.

Largely Attended By Business and Professional Men—The Episcopal Service Read By Rev. A. H. Barrington—The Late Mr. Joiner Was a Biblical Student.

From the South Third street home of the deceased, funeral services were held this afternoon, over the remains of the late Albert L. Kavalege, whose tragic death took place on Tuesday. The home was filled with sorrowing friends, who had known and loved the deceased during his many years' residence here.

A large number of the representative business men were in attendance, as were members of the Rock County Bar association, who were present in a body. Sorrow was on everyone's face, and it was plain to be seen that each person present deeply mourned the loss of a loved friend. Rev. A. H. Barrington, of Christ Episcopal church, officiated, reading the regular church service, making no reference to the life of the deceased, or the circumstances of his demise. The service was impressive and beautiful.

A song service well rendered was in the hands of Mrs. C. F. Yates, Mrs. E. M. Hyzer, C. N. Vankirk, and George Paris. The floral offerings were many and beautiful, and embraced handsome designs sent by loving friends both in and out of the city. At the close of the services the remains were tenderly laid to rest in Oak Hill cemetery. The pall bearers were relatives as follows: H. V. Allen, Robert M. Bostwick, Arthur Allen, J. B. Denborn, C. H. Kavalege, and George Davis.

Harvey R. Joiner.

Harvey R. Joiner died at Lake City, Minn., Jan. 15, 1899, in the eighty-fourth year of his age. His remains were brought back by his son, A. E. Joiner, accompanied by his wife, and were deposited in the cemetery at Emerald Grove on the 19th inst.

Deceased was born in Moriah, Essex Co., State of New York, Jan. 25, 1815. In 1838 he was married to Mary Locke. From Moriah they removed to Vermont, where they remained for four years. And in 1855 came to Wisconsin and settled in Rock county, in the town of Bradford, where he resided for some ten years, then removed to La Prairie and purchased a farm near Emerald Grove. In 1880 a good affliction befell him in the death of his excellent wife.

In 1893 he removed with his son Adin, with whom he made his home, to Rockwell, Iowa, and from there in the fall of 1897 to Lake City, Minn., where after a few days of sickness, he fell asleep in Jesus.

Four children were born to him, two of them remaining, Stanley H., of La Prairie, Wis., and Adin E., of Lake City, Minn. In early manhood he was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal church, and remained a faithful member of the same until called to the church triumphant.

Deceased was an ardent advocate of the suppression of the liquor traffic and saw no way of doing it but by laws well enforced for the prohibition of the manufacture and sale of all intoxicants.

With these convictions he became a third party prohibitionist, and cast his vote for some twenty years with that party.

When from the infirmities of years and defective hearing he was unable to attend and enjoy the sanctuary he found great delight in reading Dr. Talmage's sermons. Still his great source of spiritual comfort came from reading his bible. The record that he left showed that he had read the Old Testament through seven times and the New Testament thirty-two times.

The funeral services were conducted by the writer, a former pastor of the deceased in the Congregational church at Emerald Grove. Thomas Barless, F. B. Childs, James Plantz, Charles Kerp, Jerome Boynton, James Scott were the pall bearers.

LOCAL TICKET AGENT WEDS

The Groom Well Known, and Rev. W. W. Woodside Officiated.

At Eldorado, Wis., yesterday at noon was solemnized the wedding of Miss Corn B. Abbs and Frank L. Dilts. Rev. W. W. Woodside, pastor of the First M. E. church, of this city, officiating. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Abbs, there being fifty relatives present.

The young people received many useful and valuable presents. The bride was one of the most popular young ladies of Eldorado, and a successful school teacher. The many who gathered at the station to say good bye indicated that she was greatly loved, and respected in the community where she was raised. Mr. Dilts was also raised in Eldorado, but for the past few years has been engaged in railroad work. He is at present occupying the position of night clerk at the Northwestern depot in this city. He is a promising young man, always popular.

The happy young people will reside in this city. They have already commenced housekeeping at 52 North street and the best of good wishes will follow them.

HULBERT FOUND INSANE

Will be Taken to the Mendota Hospital Tomorrow Morning.

Drs. Buckmaster and Hedges, of this city, examined Miles Hulbert at the Rock county jail this morning and pronounced him insane. The unfortunate man will be taken to Mendota for treatment tomorrow.

Officer Cochrane arrested Hulbert at Whitewater yesterday afternoon, while he sat in a hotel office, and at first he refused to return to Janesville and force was found necessary to compel him.

Relative were in from Johnstown today and testified as to the way Hulbert had been carrying on of late, stating that they feared if he was not cared for something serious might happen to him.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE ABLY DISCUSSED

INTERESTED AUDIENCE FILLED COLUMBIA HALL.

Edward A. Kimball, of Chicago, Delivered an Address That Closely Held the Attention of Those Present—Was Once a Resident of Beloit and a Prominent Manufacturer.

An audience that comfortably filled Columbia hall, listened, last night, to a lecture by Edward A. Kimball, C. S. B., of Chicago, the authorized lecturer for this part of the country on some phases of Christian Science. He was introduced by M. P. Richardson, who stated that Christian Science, now thirty-three years old, had become an established religion in this country.

Mr. Kimball opened his lecture by stating that the subject was too vast to cover in a single lecture or to even go into the technicalities of some phases of it, but that he would, in a general way, refute some of the false statements that have been made concerning it, and state something as to the healing of the sick by its means. He then showed that the Christian Scientists believe in the divinity of Jesus Christ, and brought out very plainly the absurdity of denouncing the Scientists for healing the sick, when every religion taught to preach the gospel and Jesus, who has commanded the preaching of the gospel, was as emphatic in His declaration that they should heal the sick.

The lecturer gave some pointed illustrations of the power of mind over matter, showing that the cause of disease was in the mental state and not in the physical. He stated that the history of medicine itself showed that it was a science of guessing, and that all medicines in time ceased to produce a beneficial effect. Christian Science claimed and proved by those healed that it not only was a system of healing and equal to medicine, but that it had healed a large number of diseases which were universally pronounced incurable by the medical profession.

Mr. Kimball was exceedingly logical and clear in the statements and asked nobody to believe except what their reason would admit to be true. They believed in silent prayer and that no man should set himself up as a judge of how others should pray. The Christian Scientists healed by the same principle by which Jesus healed, and do it in accordance with his command. He stated that the ability to heal the sick had been possessed by the apostles and their followers for the first two or three centuries of the Christian era, and if we were willing to admit that Jesus' work in healing the sick was something more than spectacular, and for the purpose of showing his power, we must go further and follow Jesus' statements, that the "works that I do, ye shall do."

The Christian Scientists study the bible as much as the people of any denomination and believe that its command can be carried out. Mr. Kimball is a candid speaker, making no attack on other systems other than to explain his own, and held the undivided attention of his audience to the close of the lecture.

Mr. Kimball is at the head of a church in Chicago having fully 2,000 members, and was at one time connected with E. J. Adams, of Beloit, as a member of the Barrett Manufacturing company.

MANY SCOTCHMEN GATHER

Thomas Morgan, Well Known Here, Will Reside in Scotland.

George Skinner, of this city, represented the Rock County Caledonia society in Milwaukee last evening where he attended a meeting of about 200 Milwaukee Scotchmen and women who attended the Burns night of St. Andrew's society at the Ethical building. A literary and musical program, a supper and a dance kept up the entertainment till midnight. "Auld Lang Syne" was sung at 10 o'clock by the audience.

Thomas Morgan, a prominent Milwaukee Scotchman, who is well known in Janesville, having for several years past attended the Scotch picnics and dances here, was presented with a farewell address, for he is soon to leave for Scotland to reside.

Mr. Morgan has been active in Scotch-American affairs since coming to Milwaukee twenty-five years ago. His military bearing had doubtless much to do with the prominence he gained in St. Andrew's society, and those who have seen him in full Highland costume invariably remarked on his fine appearance.

McNAMARA sells hardware.

Hunting Up in Maine.

Returns from the 12,000,000 acres of hunting grounds in Maine indicate that the same methods will be pursued this year as have been followed in past seasons. The first week of operations has witnessed the killing of some 800 to 1,000 deer, of which about 300 have been brought to the railroad stations for shipment out of the state. Beyond a doubt there are deer enough in the Maine woods for all the hunters who will come, and when the last man has gone home to pass the New Year's holidays with his family there will still be 100,000 vigorous deer left to keep up the average for next year's hunting.

The World's Birth-Rate and Death-Rate.

It is computed that the death-rate of the world is sixty-seven and the birth-rate seventy a minute, and this seemingly light percentage of gain is sufficient to give a net increase in population each year of almost 1,200,000 souls.

HIS LEG BADLY CRUSHED

Orville Knilians, of Emerald Grove, Suffered Painful Injuries.

Dr. E. F. Woods was called to Emerald Grove last evening to dress the injuries of Orville Knilians, a butcher of that place. Yesterday Mr. Knilians went to Darien to purchase a large refrigerator for his market. When about a mile from Emerald Grove the refrigerator fell off and the side of the wagon broke. Mr. Knilians also fell out of the wagon and the refrigerator struck him, fracturing his left leg six inches above the ankle. Both bones of the leg were broken and both protruded through the skin, making a very bad as well as extremely painful break. Mr. Knilians' injuries will probably incapacitate him from business for a couple of months.

COLOR EFFECTS IN NATURE

An Interesting Art Lecture By Professor Dudley At the High School.

Prof. W. F. Dudley, late of Lake Forest University, will deliver his lecture on "Warning Colors and Mimicry" at the High School tomorrow (Friday) evening at 8 p. m.

Prof. Dudley is considered an authority on the subject of color in nature, and will undoubtedly give a very interesting lecture. The lecture will be illustrated with fifty colored lantern slides, showing nature in all her gorgeousness.

A small fee of ten cents will be charged as a protection to those interested. The proceeds will be used for purchasing of picture frames for the school rooms.

SHIP FROM OREGON HERE

Barnard and Wilder Are Making Just Such Preparations.

C. D. Barnard, of the local tobacco firm of Barnard & Wilder, was in the city this week from Evansville making the necessary arrangements for the shipping of considerable leaf tobacco from Oregon to this city to be handled. Barnard & Wilder occupy the Rowe warehouse at the corner of Wall and Madison streets, and are a hustling firm that the entire city well feels proud of. They have been in Janesville but a short time, but in that period have made a host of friends.

The shipping of tobacco from Oregon here will furnish work for many more hands.

EXPENSE WAS TOO HEAVY

Court Wouldn't Stand Bringing Prisoner From Here to Evansville.

Because of it being too much of an expense to bring a prisoner from the Rock county jail to Evansville to testify the court dismissed a case in the Out Off city.

On complaint of L. C. Gradsee, Albert Moor was arrested and tried in Justice Phillips' court Saturday, charged with using abusive language. The principal witness for the state, Frank Stark, being in jail at Janesville, it was not thought profitable to incur the expense of getting him to Evansville; therefore the case was dismissed or decided in favor of the defendant.

SMILES FOR SERIOUS LIPS.

How a London Physician Changes Grave Faces to Gay.

The "smile doctor" is the latest necessity for the complete outfit for the social success of the woman of fashion, and at present he exists only in London. For a small fee he will transform an uncomely grin into a dainty and bewitching smile—only he must have his fee first. It is no easy matter to control the curves of the lips and mouth. Small wonder, then, that the services of the smile doctor are in great demand. This gentleman puts his clients through certain lip and mouth exercises of his own invention and by constant practice the desired smile slowly grows into grace. Actresses and music hall artists largely patronize this smile tutor, and rumor has it that he is in a fair way to make a fortune. There is one drawback to the method. The mouth and cheeks become so used to dimpling that the subject is with difficulty able to keep a serious face. Even when she wants to appear serious she cannot without difficulty do so. This is inconvenient at funerals, for instance. This is certainly a drawback in some walks of life, but actresses and the gay society do not object to it so much.

Little Danger from Lightning.

Statistics as to the comparatively few deaths from lightning may not avail to lessen the nervousness of those who view every "thunder head" with alarm, but they may avail to quote to children old enough to be apprehensive and who may have many summers ahead of them. Investigations made a year or two ago showed that 293 classes of objects of which 1,707 persons confessed fear, lightning was dreaded by the greatest number. Yet in the record of fatalities there is a very small record against lightning, as compared with other causes of accidental death. Statistics prepared by the United States Weather Bureau show that for four years the average number of persons killed by lightning annually in the whole country was 196. More than that number are drowned annually in the waters about New York city, it is said, and many more than that number annually lost their lives throughout the country in bicycling. It might even appear that one is in greater danger of being fatally kicked by a horse, or of being killed by a falling chimney, than of being struck by lightning.

JUDGE FIFIELD TO HEAR NOTED CASE

RETURNED FROM DANE COUNTY FOR TRIAL.

The Action Is That of Henry Huggett Against Elijah P. Wixom and the Interested Parties Are Well Known—Involves Three Thousand Five Hundred Dollars.

The case of Henry Huggett against Elijah P. Wixom, which was removed to the circuit court of Dane county, this state, for trial, the defendant claiming that he could not secure a fair hearing in this county on account of the prejudice of Judge Bennett, has been referred by Judge Siebeck, by consent of the attorneys of the parties, to Charles L. Fifield, of this city, to hear, try and determine. It is expected that the trial of the action will be taken up soon before Judge Fifield.

The parties to the action are well known in this county. Mr. Wixom is a wealthy land owner and a resident of this city. Mr. Huggett alleges in his complaint, in substance, that he leased a farm of Mr. Wixom early in 1896; that according to the terms of the lease the plaintiff was to furnish certain agricultural implements, horses, stock and swine, and the defendant was to furnish the rest, the plaintiff to receive one-third of the grain and produce raised, and one-third of the stock and swine; that a similar agreement was entered into for the years 1897 and 1898, the plaintiff to receive, however, one-half of everything raised on the farm, including cattle and swine; that a large number of hogs has been raised on said farm each year, all of which have been sold by the defendant or taken into his possession, he refusing to account to the plaintiff for any of the proceeds thereof or for other personal property which he claims the defendant has converted by reason thereof.

The plaintiff alleges that the defendant is indebted to him in the sum of $3,500, and asks for an accounting. The defendant, in his answer, denies that the plaintiff was entitled to the hogs mentioned or any of the proceeds thereof; or that he is indebted to the plaintiff in any sum or has converted any of his property. He further claims that the plaintiff has not properly managed said farm, and that he has been obliged to hire help to do the work necessary to care for the stock and swine, and harvest the crops raised and grown thereon. He also alleges as a counter-claim that the plaintiff is indebted to him for money expended, about the sum of $350.00, and demands judgment for the same. The plaintiff denies the matters set up in the counter-claim. The outcome of the action is awaited with a good deal of interest by those who know the parties.

Sutherland & Nolan are attorneys for the plaintiff, while Dunwiddie & Wheeler represent defendant.

A Bamboo Suspension Bridge.

A recent British consular report from the far east describes a suspension bridge of 300 feet span, made of bamboo. The cane was split up into fibers and twisted together to form the cables. Considering its span, the material of the structure is quite remarkable. The old tradition that almost anything can be made out of bamboo receives here a good illustration in the field of engineering.

HE WAS A KINDLY MAN

Governor Andrews, the War Governor of Massachusetts, to Be Honored at Last by a Fitting Monument—Touching Anecdote of His Career.

This is a story about one of those "anarchists" of the late fifties. Today he sleeps in a lonely grave, and people are talking about a monument for him. We take the following from the latest issue of the Youth's Companion:

Governor Andrew, like President Lincoln, knew that the supreme tonic of life is on its spiritual side. To find religious exercise, if not religious expression, for his thoughts and feelings was his frequent practice, and it never failed to rest and restore him. During the civil war his labors were incessant, and repeatedly he spent whole nights at the Statehouse. This was the case especially, as Chalmers Barnes has told us in Zion's Herald, through the closing days of 1862. On the last night of that year—the third night of a sleepless strain of official duty—he suddenly threw aside his work, and said to his private secretary, "We are driving this too hard. Let's turn the key in the door and go down to watch-meeting at the Old Bethel."

A crowd of sailors, longshoremen, riggers and stevedores nearly filled the Bethel that night, but he found a seat among them, and took his silent part in the devotions. Near midnight a sign from Father Taylor called up the hard-worked chief magistrate to address the men. He had already forgotten his fatigue. Governor Andrew was an eloquent man, and more familiar with the Bible than many great lawyers, and his words, uttered in his clear, resistless way, carried their own force without borrowing anything from the rank of the speaker.

"In this penitential hour," was the substance of what he said, "we approach a Being Who alone can cure erring human hearts and take their sins away. As far as the east is from the west, so far hath He removed our transgressions from us." For all who will cease to do evil and learn to do well He will make the sorrow that endures for a night bring joy in the morning. He will give you the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness.

"Men! there is not one among you so good but he knows he ought to be better—better for the sake of your homes, better for your own sake, better for God's sake, for the government's sake and for the world's. Now let me see how many of you are determined to be better men."

"You've got the ship, governor, and you must bring her into port," broke in Father Taylor, in his nautical fashion.

The men understood, and began getting up by twos and threes and fives, many awkwardly wiping tears

GOVERNOR ANDREW, from their eyes, till it seemed that every one in the house was on his feet. Then all knelt, and Father Taylor prayed—as only he could pray—till the bells of the city clocks rang out the old year and rang in the new. Few who were present ever forgot the consecration of that night in the Old Bethel, when they bowed side by side with the great "war governor" at the feet of the Prince of Peace.

A DREAM THAT PAID.

How the Sewing-Machine Needle Was Invented.

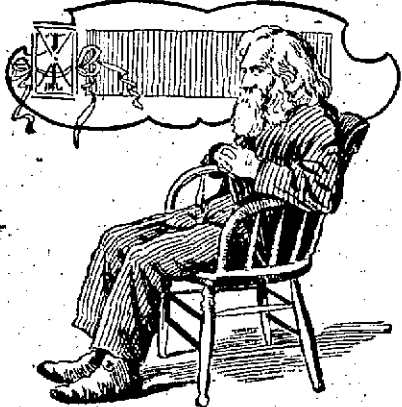

We owe the invention of the sewing machine to Elias Howe, an American mechanic, as you all know. He had a large family to care for, and could give only his odd moments to the construction of his machines. But while laboring for daily bread for himself and his family, he was constantly thinking out his invention. He got on quite well until he came to the making of a needle; then he was at a standstill, for he could not discover where the eye of the needle should be placed. At first he thought that a needle fashioned after the ordinary needle for hand-sewing might be all right, but after much experimenting he found that it would not do. He was greatly perplexed. The needle question absorbed his thoughts by day, and at night he dreamed about needles. One night he dreamed that he was in a far distant country that was ruled over by a savage king. The king ordered him to construct a sewing machine, and, not daring to disobey orders, he at once set to work. All went well until he came to the location of the needle's eye; then his trouble began. The king grew impatient and finally gave the inventor just twenty-four hours in which to complete the machine, and told him he must forfeit his life if he failed to finish the task. He worked harder than ever, you may be sure, but found that he could not invent a proper needle, and had to give it up. Just as the king's warriors were about to take him away to execute him, he noticed that the spears they carried were pierced near the head. Like an inspiration the solution of the needle problem came to him, and, while imploring the savage king for a little more time, he awoke. Although it was but 4 o'clock in the morning, Mr. Howe arose at once, and went to his work-shop and by 8 o'clock he had modeled a needle for his sewing machine with an eye at the point. Thus was the perplexing problem solved.

HAS LIVED 125 YEARS.

Noah Raby, born April 1, 1772, near Gatesville, Gates county, North Carolina, but now an inmate of the Piscataway Poor Farm, Middlesex county, New Jersey, reached the phenomenal age of 125 years April last and still lives to recall the events that have stirred the nation during its entire history. At the last election he walked two miles to deposit his ballot for the straight Democratic ticket. His mother was a native of Gates county and of

NOAH RABY.

English extraction, but his father was an Indian, a native of Nansemond county, Virginia. The story of Noah's life, with all its occurrences and simplicities, is still fresh in his mind, as he proved from an interview with William Muldoon, the celebrated trainer and professor of anatomy.

TRAINING PETS AT HOME.

There are men whose business it is to educate any animal, from a flea to a lion, but in the ordinary home, with commonplace pets, much can be done to make them more amusing and intelligent. By training they become more companionable and find life more enjoyable, since developed faculties grow sensitive and acute. A really smart dog will sit by the window with a positive grin on his alert, bright face, thinking human nature, both afoot and astride, the greatest joke on record, as it passes along.

Butterflies can be taught to come to hand like their yellow cousins, the canaries. Rats grow gentle with fearless, patient treatment, though certainly they become more uncanny, pets than mice. Squirrels and chipmunks, birds and bees, are all amenable to the arch magician love.

There is a cat that answers every member of the family with short, expressive sounds between a purr and a mew. He is, of course, the constant companion of his superior house mates, and though naturally bright, grows more so under the care he receives. The cook declares that she can tell the difference between "yes" and "no" in their long confidences upon the hearth.

Treat your pets, however stupid or humble, with consideration and tact, and they will appreciate it. One does not need to become maudlin over a poodle and neglect a helpless baby, but "our brothers and sisters the birds," as St. Francis found, will answer in gratitude. Talk to your pets, tell them what would interest them if they could understand, always in a serene and gentle way. Little by little they will grow, like human beings, up to the standard you expect of them.

THEY NICKNAMED HIM.

Shuja-ul-Mulk, mehtar of Chitral, is fourth son of old Anan-ul-Mulk, "the wrestler."

During the trouble in 1895, Sir

SHUJA-UL-MULK.

George Robertson of England saw fit to consider that Amir-ul-Mulk, the reigning mehtar, had resigned. He accordingly set up his brother, Shuja-ul-Mulk, as mehtar.

This little fellow amused everybody by his princely gravity. The soldiers nicknamed him "Sugar-and-Milk," for obvious reasons.

THE UNHAPPY SON OF HEAVEN

Pathetic Edicts Confidentially Issued by the Emperor of China.

The Nagasaki Press publishes some interesting documents which it has received from one of the reformers who succeeded in escaping to Japan after the emperor's coup d'etat. The following are described as confidential edicts issued by the emperor to his secretary, Tan-chi-tung: "I have been for twenty-three years as one who should be blamed by my subjects. I have simply put my people in a hard position. Do you think that it is not my wish to see my people prosperous, my nation strong? Do you mean to say that I should be called a gloomy sovereign? But it is only the emperor dowager who does not like to reform the government and all the ministers belonging to the Manchur party, who have always proposed to adhere to the laws of our ancient progenitors. That I really cannot help. Whatever schemes that should be adopted to reform, you may always propose as you like and I must try to follow your advice. Whenever I am in fault you may dictate to me personally and I will at once try to change." Tan-Chi-Tung himself suffered death for the cause of reform at the hands of the emperor, but before dying he is stated to have conveyed the following message to his leader, Kang Yu-Wei, written with his blood on a strip of rag: "Those who have lately been admitted to specially private audiences are only six in number. We, four of them, must receive the fatal strokes; those who, while desiring to go forward, are yet hanging back, are not worthy of serious consideration; while he who has only one hair remaining, by which he bravely wishes to hold a burden of 30,000 catties, is only you, master. If heaven does not intend to break the line of succession of the celestial empire, you, master, must not die. But, alas, do not let those who died die for nothing and those who are living render no services in their lives! Chi-Tung (in dying) does what is easy; while you, master (remaining alive), have to do what is difficult. My soul shall, after death, become a spirit to render assistance in punishing the rebellious. I tear my clothing and bite my finger, and write this with blood by words thus and here."

Horse Flesh as Food.

In Paris horse flesh is slowly triumphing over prejudice. Every year sees an increase in the number of those butchers' shops with the sign of the horse's head, where the commodity is retailed. It was in 1866 that the first one was opened. In 1897, 2,152 horses were devoured by the Parisians. In 1891 the number had risen to very close on 20,000, and the latest statistics show a large increase on this figure. The horses killed accidentally in the streets, or which have to be killed owing to the breaking of a limb, furnish a considerable proportion of the supply of the horse beef.

Tickets are limited to twenty-one days for return passage.

No Change at Madison.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 26.—Ten ballots were taken in the senatorial caucus Wednesday, and not a voter left the candidate he had supported for the last three days. On the fifty-seventh ballot the vote stood: Quarles, 41; Stephenson, 26; Babcock, 17; Cook, 17; Webb, 10. The voting was without the least excitement and each member responded in a determined voice as the roll was called.

DOUBTS AS TO EXACT DATE.

Difference of Opinion as to When Ohio Became a State.

There is some doubt as to the exact date upon which Ohio became a state. Ohio never was a separate "territory," being a part of the Northwest territory. In 1801 the people living in the portion of the Northwest territory now embraced in the state of Ohio called a convention to frame a state constitution for the district which had set up a claim to statehood under the provisions of the fifth article of the ordinance of 1787. That convention met in Chillicothe on Nov. 1, 1802, and on Nov. 29 completed its work. The constitution thus framed was not submitted to the people, but was declared ratified by the convention itself. On Feb. 17, 1803, the United States congress passed an act admitting Ohio into the union as a state, said act becoming operative upon the assembling of the first state legislature at Chillicothe. The first state legislature met at Chillicothe at 10 a. m. Tuesday, March 1, 1803, and both houses immediately organized. Thus there are three dates about which opinions may differ as to the exact initial period of Ohio statehood. They are Nov. 29, 1802, when the constitution was perfected and ratified; Feb. 17, 1803, when congress passed the act admitting Ohio, and March 1, 1803, when the legislature assembled and organized. The latter date appears to have the greatest claim, in view of the language of the act of congress and the organization of the legislature. The two houses of the legislature met in joint session at 11 a. m. March 3, 1803, to open and declare the result of the ballot for governor. Edward Tiffin was declared elected, receiving 4,564 votes. There were no ballots cast against him. At 1 o'clock p. m. the same day, Governor Tiffin was sworn in at a joint session of the two houses in legislature by Judge Meigs.

WINE OF CARDUI

Woman's Crowning Virtue.

BATON, Mo., July 27.
For years I suffered terrible pains every month and my doctor told me I could not be cured except by an operation. I felt I could not submit to that and was so dependent I had given up all hopes of a cure. My husband insisted on my trying Wine of Cardui and at last thank God I did try it. Last month I did not have a pain, and did all my work, which I had not done in seven years.

MRS. MINNIE LITTLE.

Wine of Cardui

Modesty is the crowning virtue of American women. It is the trait that all mankind admires. A modest woman is the most pleasing of all created things. Because of this becoming virtue thousands of women prefer to suffer untold miseries rather than confide their troubles to a physician, and to even think of submitting to an examination is revolting. They can't get their own consent to an operation. Wine of Cardui permits sensitive women to retain their modesty. With it they can cure "female troubles" in the quiet of their own rooms. If special treatment is required they can write to the Advisory Department of the Chattanooga Medicine Co., and their letters will be promptly answered by women trained in the cure of womanly weaknesses and irregularities. There should be no hesitation. Delayed treatment means a chronic condition. The longer postponed the harder to cure.

REPUBLICANS IN DEBATE.

Brilliant Speeches in the House
Wednesday.

EXPANSION POLICY ATTACKED.

Representative Johnson of Indiana Bitterly Criticizes the Idea, and Provokes a Sharp Reply from Mr. Dilliver, the Iowa Member.

Washington, Jan. 26.—Two republicans, Mr. Johnson, the Indiana member, and Mr. Dilliver of Iowa locked horns Wednesday on the question of expansion. The army bill, which was under debate, was swallowed up in the broader question of our future national policy. Mr. Johnson secured time from the democratic side to attack the position of the administration. With satire, irony and wit the keen thrusts of his logic were driven home. He denounced the proposition to annex the Philippines as subversive of every tradition dear to the American heart in the past and the inauguration of a policy that would end in the downfall of the republic.

"While the president, in the presence of what he may conceive to be a popular demand," Mr. Johnson said, "is hurrying the army and navy across the seas to inflict upon an alien people a government against their will, I propose fearlessly, without regard to its effect upon my personal fortunes, to make a plea for liberty and an argument against the perpetration of injustice."

If the chief executive would break his silence and openly state that we did not propose to enslave the people of the Philippines, Mr. Johnson said, the present strained relations in the islands would cease; those who were but yesterday our allies would return to their homes, and there would be no necessity for this proposed increase in the standing army. He drew a parallel between our revolutionary struggle and the struggle the Filipinos made for their independence. They had not waged war for a change of masters; they had rejected with scorn the high-sounding manifestos of the president of the United States. They preferred to be free, and they now stood with arms in their hands, undaunted, standing against the United States for independence and liberty as they had stood against Spain. A people with such stamina were worthy of their freedom.

The Philippines might not be as capable as we for self-government, said Mr. Johnson, with biting sarcasm. They might not be able to corrupt legislatures in order to hold dishonored seats in the senate, as we are. They might not be able to decide contested election cases according to party considerations instead of their merits, as we are. They might not be able to practice fraud at elections. They might be lacking in all these essential attributes, but they were capable of constituting a government according to their own ideas. All government was progressive, and in time they would rise on their dead selves to higher things.

Proceeding, he denounced the president's course as a "policy of evasion" and charged that his supporters were conjuring up speculators to drive in the opposition. It was declared that our failure to take the Philippines would precipitate a general European war; that all the nations of Europe would scramble for what we left if we withdrew. He said that he had seen no such disposition except on the part of Germany, and she was actuated by the example of our greed. If we set the example and withdraw, recognizing the independence of the Filipinos, others would do likewise, but if other countries did pounce down upon the islands, let them do it. We were not expressly or impliedly responsible. If they did they would be but pursuing their traditions. Let us see that we do no wrong.

He declared he would vote for a bill to reorganize the army, but before God he would never vote for a standing army of 100,000, whose ultimate object was to establish a colonial system.

Mr. Johnson next referred to the part Great Britain had taken in inducing the United States to enter into controversies of the far east, and of the manner in which British assistance was being given to the "iniquitous policy of William McKinley." Let there be a new treaty, he pleaded vehemently. Let it not give $20,000,000 for a session of the Philippines to the United States, but let it provide unequivocally that Spain withdraw from the Philippines and give to the Philippines the inestimable blessing of liberty.

The Indiana member now turned to the "cost of expansion." He detailed the cost of the war and the estimates of $145,000,000 for the military establishment and $47,000,000 for the naval establishment for the next fiscal year. It showed, he said, that our war budget exceeded those of the great military powers of the world. It was within $3,000,000 of the cost of Great Britain's vast establishment, by which she ruled her colonial empire; it was more than the war budget of Germany; more than that of France or of any other nation on the face of the globe. And this was to realize "the wild dream of expansion."

When Mr. Dilliver of Iowa rose to reply there was an outburst of applause from the republican side. "I am not here to speak for the administration," he said, "I belong to the humble ranks of my party and have not been in the white house since the war with Spain began."

The war had brought all sections and parties together in a common cause. Now that it was over, the treaty signed and ready for ratification, it would seem that the same spirit should be preserved. It was sorrowful and discouraging, he continued, that no sooner was the protocol signed, when the nation needed, and the public safety demanded, the support of all, that there arose this bewildering confusion of tongues. Whatever responsibilities existed today, he declared, dated from the final ultimatum we had given to the ministry at Madrid. All the treasure that had been expended, all the victories that had been won, all the possessions we had gained were part of the context of the resolution of April 29, 1898. If we were wrong then, as his friend from Indiana was sure we were, if our action in congress was a blunder and a crime, it was a year too late to go back and begin over again. If he (Mr. Johnson) supported the president then he should have the grace now in the troubles that had arisen out of these troubles to meet the situation with generous solicitude instead of anger.

Unintentionally, said Mr. Dilliver, the gentleman from Indiana had paid to William McKinley the tribute which a grateful country had lovingly placed on the grave of Abraham Lincoln—that he stood by the millions of his countrymen. The president was absolutely without responsibility for the Spanish war. The initial responsibility rested with congress and the people.

A heated passage between Mr. Dilliver and Mr. Johnson occurred when the latter asked if the administration believed in the forcible annexation of the Philippines.

Mr. Dilliver sharply answered that he did not speak for the president or the administration.

Mr. Dilliver declared that the crisis of the hour was due to the "almost treasonable utterances in this chamber and in the senate chamber." There was some excuse for the rioters at Madrid, but none for those who at home joined in reviling their country and denouncing our peace commissioners for what they had done.

When Mr. Johnson again demanded to know if Mr. Dilliver advocated the forcible annexation of the Philippines, he replied: "If I had my way I would take possession of the entire Philippine group and establish in Luzon a base of operations, from there scattering the beneficence of our institutions and holding that territory in trust for the civilization and advancement of the world."

Mr. Dilliver was followed by Mr. Lentz (dem., O.), who opposed the bill.

At the night session Mr. Crumacker (rep., Ind.) supported the bill and advocated annexation, but argued that the natives of the Philippines, in virtue of annexation, would become citizens of the United States. He bitterly opposed a colonial system for outlying possessions. Mr. Rixey (dem., Va.) opposed the bill. A standing army of 100,000 men, he declared, would be the beginning of a grand imperial army.

Mr. Loney (rep., N. C.) supported the bill. He did not believe the president contemplated the annexation of the Philippines.

ACTION URGED BY MR. DAVIS.
Argues the Importance of Immediate Ratification of the Treaty.

Washington, Jan. 26.—The senate held two executive sessions Wednesday, and at each the peace treaty was the subject under discussion. At the first an agreement was reached, to vote on the treaty next Monday week, and at the second Senator Davis presented the American commissioners' reasons for the acceptance of the treaty in the form in which it was finally concluded. Mr. Davis said he, with others, was looking forward to the prospective partition of the vast Chinese empire among the European nations, and he foresaw that if the United States did not secure a footing in the orient such as they now have an opportunity to secure through the terms of the treaty they would be most effectually and forever shut out from this vast market.

The European powers were profoundly jealous of the United States, and the senator declared it was a fact that we had not had one friend on the continent in our recent struggle with Spain or in our efforts to secure peace favorable to this country. He intimated that but for Great Britain's attitude there would have been intervention by the continental powers. He believed if the Americans held the Philippines international trouble would be avoided, but if the contrary course should be pursued he was most apprehensive of the results.

Mr. Davis urged the importance of favorable action upon the treaty at the present session of congress. A failure to ratify meant, he argued, continued uncertainty, renewed encouragement to the insurgent Filipinos, possible conflict with them and a prolongation of the state of war, with much of its expense, if not with its horrors.

Little Dissatisfaction Is Existing in Cuba.

DISPLEASED BY REPORTS.

Majority of the Natives Welcome American Occupation—Enthusiastic Reception Accorded to Gen. Lee and the American Soldiers with Him.

Havana, Jan. 26.—Gen. Brooke is greatly offended because of sensational reports sent from Havana to the effect that the Cubans are so greatly dissatisfied that an outbreak is imminent.

Gen. Brooke points out that the rank and file of the Cubans are well pleased with American occupation, the only dissatisfaction being the result of the failure to announce the national policy regarding this island.

An outbreak is the last thing to be feared, and those who think to the contrary would quickly reverse their minds had they seen the enthusiastic reception given to Gen. Lee and the American soldiers on the way from Camp Columbia to Guines. The latter is, next to Havana, the largest city in the province, and in going there, Gen. Lee was accepting an oft-repeated invitation.

ILLINOIS LEGISLATURE.

Proceedings in the House and Senate Wednesday.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 26.—In the house Wednesday Mr. Cook of Cook introduced a bill to regulate in Illinois all telephone charges and empower certain state officials to regulate the same. In addition the proposed act provides for a scale for telephone rates, according to the population, also for the creation of a commission to regulate the same.

Among the other bills introduced were the following: Mr. Kennedy—To regulate the rate of passenger fares on street railroads and on elevated roads in cities having a population of 100,000 inhabitants. The bill demands a straight three-cent fare on all such carriers. Mr. Mueller—Enabling boards of education to establish parental and truant schools. Mr. Page—Providing for the purchase of free text books by boards of education and by school boards. The act provides that no book shall cost more than 60 per cent of the retail price. Mr. Rorig—Taxing all corporations upon their gross receipts. The amount suggested in the bill is 2 per cent on the gross receipts. The act further provides that every corporation doing business in the state shall make a full report of its business to the secretary of state, before the tenth of each month, and fixes a fine from $1,000 to $100,000 for failure to make such report. Mr. D. E. Sullivan—A department store bill for Chicago. The bill proposes to license and tax the different departments of large stores, upon a basis of from $100 up to $1,000 for each department. The amount of the license fee is made according to the number of articles sold in the departments.

The house adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning.

Gov. Tanner transmitted a message to the senate nominating trustees of the home for juvenile offenders at Geneva. The nominations were confirmed. Senator Baxter introduced a bill revising the anti-trust law and defining what shall be considered a trust.

WAS A VERY SICK CHILD.

Mrs. Cluton's Little Girl Was Most Terribly Afflicted.

Parents Should Study This Case and Wonderful Cure.

Dr. Greene's Nervura the Remedy Which Made This Marvelous Cure.

Mrs. Laura Cluton, Brunswick, Mo., says: "My little daughter, Birdie Lee, aged 10 years, was taken sick. The first we noticed of her sickness was when she went to sleep. She was very nervous; she would turn over on her face in bed, and would act as if she was badly scared. She complained a great deal with her spine, top of her head, eyes, ears, and finally all over, even to her fingers and toes. She never slept a night unless under the influence of medicines to make her sleep. She cried pitifully and said she could not help it. Seeing so many testimonials praising Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy so highly I thought I would try it. Before she had taken one-half a bottle I had noticed a great change. She has taken four bottles and as far as I can see she is well. A great many people were surprised to see such a change in so short a time. I am satisfied Dr. Greene's Nervura saved my daughter's life."

If your child is sick, try this grand remedy, Dr. Greene's Nervura, the prescription of the famous Dr. Greene, 148 State Street, Chicago, Ill., and remember that he can be consulted without charge, personally or by writing.

PRINCE OF FORGERS.

FAMOUS TRIAL NOW IN PROGRESS IN FRISCO.

World's Greatest Forger Caught—Charles Becker, Most Skillful Criminal in His Line, Fighting for Liberty—Operated All Over the World.

Charles Becker, the "prince of forgers," one of the most dangerous men of his class which the world ever produced and who was once convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment on the charge of raising a check from $12 to $22,000 and having the check paid by the Nevada bank of San Francisco, is now passing through a new trial of his case in San Francisco.

This is the third trial on this one charge, the first ending in a conviction, from which an arrest was immediately taken. The second trial resulted in a disagreement. This time, however, the prosecution believed that a conviction will be secured, as James Cregan, who was convicted with Becker on the first trial, has turned against him and told the full story of the crime. His confession so far has been kept secret, but it, together with the testimony of the Pinkerton detectives, who have closely followed Becker in his career for many years, and who arrested him as he was about to flee from the country after the passing of the forged check, and also the testimony of the American Bankers' association, will, it is claimed, leave no loophole through which this prince of forgers can escape.

The prisoner has a most interesting career and is, without question, the cleverest and most intelligent forger who ever came to the attention of bankers and detectives. His methods were such as to almost defy detection, and it was his wonderful brain that conceived the plan of organization against banks whereby he could keep far in the background and send much less important men to the front. He had the expert hand of an artist and also the knowledge and ability to lithograph drafts, to manufacture the watermarks on paper, to blend inks, and to construct special tools to assist him in making erasures on genuine drafts.

Very little is known of his early days, but his criminal career extends back to the early '70s. In appearance he looks like a prosperous business man and carries his age very well. He is now about 49 years old and probably was born in Germany or came from German parents, as he speaks with a German accent. His forehead is high and altogether his facial expression designates an intelligence which is but seldom found in any class of criminals. In the rogues' galleries of almost all the large cities of the world are to be found his pictures, taken at different stages of his career, but all of them show him a criminal far above the average in intelligence.

For many years prior to his arrest in Philadelphia in 1896, Becker, Cregan and other of his associates had been swindling banks all over the United States with raised drafts. Becker always attended to the altering of the drafts, removing the writing with acids, restoring the most delicate tints to the safety paper and writing in the new amounts. When the amount of the genuine check or draft was perforated or cut in the paper, he would fill in these perforations with paper pulp, then with hot irons press it out and perforate or cut the new figures to agree with the amount. Even with a microscope it was almost impossible to detect the alterations.

In 1872, Becker, with "hers," robbed the Third National bank in Baltimore, after which he and his pals fled to Europe, where they squandered the proceeds of the robbery. Then Becker formed this same gang of robbers into a band of forgers and after sufficient training and fixing up, traveled all over Europe, committing forgeries in every city of importance. With Becker and the gang was Carlos Selevitch, a noted German forger. At Smyrna, Turkey, they were put under arrest. Previous to their arrest they had swindled banks on the continent out of thousands of dollars, securing $20,000 in Constantinople. As fast as the money was obtained it was sent to London to Mrs. Lydia Chapman, wife of Joseph C. Chapman, one of the members of the gang.

After their arrest and trial in the English consular court at Smyrna, they were sent to the English prison at Constantinople to serve out sentences of three years each. In prison Becker spent all his idle time in planning a means of escape. He soon managed to secure hold of the rope which was used to sound alarms to the governor of the prison. When a prisoner would escape this alarm would always be rung to notify the prison and civil guards. One night Becker sounded the alarm, but the search revealed the fact that no prisoners had escaped. For several nights he sounded the alarm and the guards turned out. Never finding any of their charges escaping the guards somewhat relaxed their vigilance, believing that the ringing of the alarm was either a joke or an accident.

The last time Becker sounded the alarm he had cut himself out of his cell and escaped in the darkness with several of his companions. His escape was not detected until the following morning. Becker succeeded in making his way to London. Among those left behind him was Chapman. Chapman, on finding himself deserted, at once notified his wife of the fact and instructed her not to give up any part of the money until his release. Becker and his associates therefore found it necessary to resort to strategy in order to gain possession of their share. On April 13, 1876, they planned to drug Mrs. Chapman, but in drugging the liquor they gave her an overdose, which killed her, she having some affection of the heart. Becker er and his pals became alarmed and fled to this country by different routes. Shortly after coming here Becker formed a gang and planned to defraud the Union Trust company of New York. A canceled check was secured and Becker made a counterfeit of the check, which was filled in for $64,000. This check was presented by Joe Reilly, at the Union Trust company, and the money paid thereon. Becker turned state's evidence against Reilly, who was convicted and sentenced.

Seaver purchased a $12 draft from the bank of Woodland, Woodland, Cal., drawn on the Crocker-Woolworth bank of San Francisco. The draft was handed over to Becker, who altered the date and changed the amount to $22,000. On Dec. 17 Seaver deposited this raised draft to his account in the Nevada bank and the next day presented his check and was paid $22,000 in gold. The forgery was not discovered until the Crocker-Woolworth bank rendered its monthly statement to their customer, the Woodland bank.

Seaver was the first man arrested, being tracked to St. Paul and Minneapolis. He was arrested in St. Paul, and shortly afterward McCluskey was caught in Minneapolis. In the meantime Becker and Cregan were preparing to leave the country and had gone so far as to buy their tickets to Guatemala.

The Pinkertons, however, were on their track, and arrested them in Philadelphia in May, 1896, on suspicion, but after they were released they continued their preparations to leave the country. McCluskey, who had been released by the western authorities for lack of evidence against him, had come east and endeavored to get some money from Becker and Cregan in order to aid Seaver, but they declined to give anything. When Seaver learned that his former pals were deserting him he confessed to Capt. Lees of the San Francisco detectives and implicated both Becker and Cregan.

An indictment was then secured and the Philadelphia Pinkertons, who were cleverly following every move Becker and Cregan made, arrested them a second time in Newark, May 13, 1896. They were then taken west for trial. At the trial in August of that year both men were convicted and Becker was sentenced to life imprisonment in San Quentin prison. It was one of the most remarkable trials on record.

(Taken at Smyrna, Turkey.)

Becker spent considerable money in employing the best of counsel, and it was with the greatest difficulty that the prosecution could secure a conviction. The same was true in the second trial, when the jury disagreed. The third trial, which begins today, will be a repetition of the former two. Becker again has good counsel, but the prosecution apparently has the best of the case.
